

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIAL

Supplementary Figure 1 presents the distributions of the continuous predictors, namely age (A) and cataract score (B).

Supplementary Figure 2 illustrates the theoretically achievable power of the study across a range of odds ratios. The purpose of this figure is to show which effect sizes could be reliably detected given the sample size and event rate of the study.

